SONGS OF SPRING

What does the raindrop sing as it spatters, First on the shingles, then on the pane, Showing music as each bubble scatters? Showing music as each number scatters:
Winter is going, spring coming again;
I know a bird who was yesterday teiling
Glorious news to his mate in the tree;
Down by the orchard tree buds are swelling,
On the meadow there wanders a bee.

On the meadow there wanders a bee.
Out in the forest where brown leaves were lying Shivering and shrinking in nooks icy cold,
Would you believe it, a weak voice is trying
To sing of a croous deep under the mould;
Signs are as brisk, too, in hamlet or city,
Changes are coming with sunshine to town;
Do not forget this, for, ohl what a pity
To let summer find your house all upside down.
Learn from the bees, the birds and the flowers
How to renew all the olden delights;
Be ready to breathe in the sweet balmy hours

When the new was brought to Assistant-General Superin tendent Earling at an early hour this morning he refused to say anything. The strike was not declared by any organization of brotherhood, at least, not formally. The mer say that it is entirely an individual action of their part. Even if the strike extends no further than at this writing the effect will be the practical suspension of business on the entire system.

THE SITUATION SERIOUS.

The strike situation this morning is more serious. Business on the Chicago division of the St. Paul Railroad is at a standstill, all the road's men, including engineers, firemen, switchmen and brakemen, were ordered out last night at a meeting which lasted till i o'clock this morning. No train of any description has been moved to-day by Union men, and all the suburban residents dependent on this road are stranded at their homes and are unable to reach the city.

All the switch engineers and switchmen in the Panhandle yards reported for work at 7 o'clock in spite of their reported decision to stop work to-day, and at 9 o'clock they are working as usual.

Suburban travel on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad was at a standstill this morning. As early as 6 o'clock great crowds were waiting at Elimra, Humboldt Boulevard, Pacific Junction, Hermess and Cragin for the "early train," but no train appeared. THE SITUATION SERIOUS.

were waiting at Elimra, Humboldt Boulevard, Pacific Junction, Hermesa and Cragin for the "early train," but no train appeared. This train is in charge of two passenger switchmen, Geo. Moffard and "Jack" Getz, who usually make it up at Western avenue and back it to Cragin, leaving the latter place at 6 a. m. The train is an important one, as upon it about 600 working people depend to reach the Union Depot before 7 o'clock a. m. o'clock a. m. Feelings were smothered, however, and the crowd settled down to await the coming of the Itasca train, due 50 minutes later. They appointed a committee to wait upon the telegraph operator at Pacific Junction and ascertain whether or not the train would run. Engineer James Kennedy at Itasca returned the answer''I will not budge a foot," All hopes of catching the next train, known as the Dunning Accommodation, were shattered when it was issarned that it had not gone out on its first trip and so could not possibly come in. Then the motley crowd of men, woman, pretty salesladies and even young cash boys and girls started in large numbers to walk and could be seen for hours afterward counting the ties toward the city.

The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railway Company is determined to call to day upon the Pittsburg & Fort Wayne, the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, the Eock Island, the Illinois Central and perhaps the Alton for assistance in raising the freight blockade in its yards. This, it claims, it has a right to do under the interstate commerce law, and the roads called upon are liable to damages under this act if they refuse. The Pittsburg & Lake Shore officials have announced that they will have Burlington. What the other roads will do, when called upon to do so. The Rock Island has already refused to take sides with the Burlington. What the other roads will do, when called upon, is a matter for conjecture, but it is understood that they will unite for mutual protection and make a desperate fight to break down the influence of the Hrotherhood and the Switchmen's Union. The moment the engineers, firemen or switchmen of other roads are asked to assist in moving 'Q.'' freight they will strike. Thus the chances are favorable to a general railread tie-up on the lines converging in Chicago. The Brotherhood switchmen and brakemen on all the roads are now working harmoniously, and they appear to be as determined to win as the railroad companies. This is practically the situation to-day. Chalrman Hoge of t

Ohlef Arthur, practically admitted this morning that the engineers firemen and switchmen of three and perhaps four other roads would go out some time to-day, thus precipitating one of the greatest strikes ever known in Chicago. From what was gathered from Mr. Hoge's carefully guarded talk has selzed the men, and a move of the Burlington to force its cars on other roads will complete the climax and send the men out without even bringing the grievance committees of the roads together to formally order the cessation of work. It is an understood thing, and the Brotherhood has determined to out Chicago completely off from the great West, as far as it lies in its power. The roads marked for a strike are the Chicago & Alton, the Fort Wayne, Panhandle, Rock Island and the Santa Fe roads. The men on these systems were struck with the strike fever more than a week ago, and it was decided that the only remedy the Brotherhood has will be in bringing the pressure of the officials of other railroad systems to force the Burlington's competitors are desperate." The switchmen especially are imbued with the desire to strike and the fever is spreading, There certainly will be a great move within the next twenty-four hours."

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 31.-General Manager Miller of the Chicago, Milwankee & St Paul, said this morning that the trouble with railroad men is still confined to Chicago. The Chicago engine dispatchers joined the ranks, of the disaffected and before their places could be filled some delay to passenger trains at the Chicago terminus was caused by a failure on the part of the company to get the engines out on time. About two hundred employes of the company have quit work at Chicago on account of the trouble. "We are getting new engine dispatchers to sumply the employes of the company have quit work at Chicago on account of the trouble. "We are getting new engine dispatchers to supply the places of those who stopped work, and all passenger trains, except those of the early morning, are about on time. We are running as many freight trains as we can take care of in Chicago," said Mr. Miller. "The St. Paul is in the market for freight both at Chicago and Milwaukee. On all the other divisions of the road trains are running as usual. I do not believe there will be any further trouble. Mr. Earling is in Chicago, and the men involved in the trouble communicate with him. "The position held by the road is the same as yesterday." All is quiet at the railway yards in this city as yet. A St. Paul switchman reiterated a statement that the employes have no grievances against the St. Paul Company.

Assistant General Manager Tucker said at noon that the report sent out from Chicago as to the Chicago Suburban train being suspended was correct, as no trains were running on the Evanston Division. He said that passenger trains were running as usual between this city and Chicago and that as many freight trains as could be made-up were being started. Mr. Tucker said he did not think the road men had been ordered out at last light's meeting at Chicago, for the reason

In the St. Paul yards at noon routine work was proceeding as usual, East and West-bound reight trains being handled without delay. Employes generally, however, are sanguine that they will be ordered out soon, and some are confident that instructions to that effect will be promulgated by 4 o'clock this afternoon. REPLACING THE STRIKERS.

REPLACING THE STRIKERS.

A special to the Evening Wisconsin, from Janesville, Wis., says a train load of passenger and freight conductors, with a sprinkling of switchmen and brakemen, and one or two yardmasters left for Chicasgo this morning to take the places of strikers in the switch yards. They are non-union recruits from the Prairie du Chien and Mineral Point Divisions of the St. Paul road. Employes of the road at Janesville say a general order to strike will be obeyed with great reluctance by men outside of Chicago, as work is hard to get and all are anxious to hold their places. They will sustain the strikers at Chicago, however, and an assessment for that purpose has been levied.

QUINCY, Ill., March 31.—When it came time for the night switchmen to go on duty here last night, all of them reported for duty except Henry and Buck Hade. These two said that they were not on a strike, but did not feel well and simply wished to lay off. Everything was quiet in the yards during the night, and the work was promptly done as usual. When it came time for the day men to go to work this moraing they all reported for duty and went to work except Al Henry and Ed Josephs. These two were appointed as a Committee to go to Galesburg and interview Division Superintendent Rice in regard to an increase of pay. The men ask for an advance of 30 cents a day all around. The question of whether the men will strike or not will be settled as soon as Josephs and Henry get back from Galesburg. It is believed by the railroad folks here that the advance will be granted. The switchmen claim that the Quincy yard is one of the hardest to work in on the Burlington system, and that in spite of this they get smaller pay than in the yards of any place of importance on the road. The committee will return from Galesburg either to-night or to-morrow morning.

BURLINGTON, March 31 .- The switchmen's strike extended to this city to-day. Eight of the forty Burlington switchmen "took their time" and quit, but gave no reason for action. The company's officials say the places will be filled this afternoon.

The Ultimatum Presented to President Carment's Defeat—Experiments With Bicycles in the British Army—The Abyssinian Campaign — Brutal Treatment of Mr. Gilbooly—Foreign News.

Special Cablegram to the Post-Dispatch. LONDON, March 31.—The defeat of the French government on so vital a question as the revision of the constitution, puts France in the throes of a crisis as serious as that brought about by the resignation of Grevy. A Min-ister nominated by the Extreme Left would have to introduce a measure in the direction would certainly be rejected by the Senate. Altogether the task of governing France at present, is a hurculean one. It is estimated that there are now in the French Chamber no fewer than seventeen parties of Royalists aione, split into five groups, and even the Bonapartists, although sadiy reduced in number, are split into importance to Gen. Boulanger, whose address to the electors is freely criticised and is held ty furnish a further confirmation if any is needed, of his political manœuvers. A journ alist in the confidence of M. Tirard declares that it is not true that Boulanger was watched to them, some days after the four elections, Logerot sent for him and asked for a frank protested that he was quite a stranger to what had been done, he was a soldier and nothing but a soldier. Some days afterwards Boulanger, coming to Paris in deflance of express orders to the contrary, was met accidentally at the Lyons terminus by a military officer. The officer reported the fact to Logerot, adding that Boulanger wore dark spe acles. It is difficult yet to estimate Bor langer's chances at Nord, and much depends whether he can persuade the loving agriculturists of Nord that he really favors only a defensive military policy.

The Experiments With Bicycles in the British Army Sham Fights.

Special Cablegram to the Post-Dispatch. London, March 31.—The English public, as a rule, take little interest in the marchings and counter-marchings and brilliant victories of the volunteer sham fight at Easter-tide. This year, however, the operations possess some novelty, owing to the fact that it is the first time that 'cyclists are engaged, not merely as scouts, but in actual offensive and defensive operations. Most of the machines used were bicycles, although some were tricycles. The bicycle most in favor was one heavy machine with four wheels and seats for three riders, which was fitted with a Maxim machine gun. But it had not gone far when it broke down. Altogether the experiment was not favorable to cyclists. Starting from Guildford with the Intention of going to Winchester, thence Salisbury, they found the roads heavy, owing to recent rains, and a strong gale was blowing in their teeth, so that on arriving at Farmham, the commanding officer decided to send the corps to Winchester by railroad. Arriving there the cyclists ses out for Salisbury, meeting on the way the advance guard of the enemy, who fired on them sometime and met volleys in return. The re-sult was uncertain, but the cyclists, when tired of firing, took no further notice of the assailants and entered in Salisbury in triumph.

No report was received from the mine to-day, but the stockholders state that their firm belief is that the mine is a veri-table bonarya.

Phillips was in good demand opening with a sale of 500 shares at 50c. It afterwards declined to 45c, 300 shares being disposed of at this price, and closed with a sale of 500 shares at 474cc. West Granite was not heavily traded in, and

The notes given for the new mill which was contracted for under the Nichols management fell due to-day, but arrangements have been by which the payment has been postponed and the mine will continue in operation under the present conditions until the 1st of July and probably longer.

Mrs. Kerr, who placed the Sylph mine in St. Louis some fifteen months ago, the great majority of the stock being taken by ladies, will arrive in the city next week for the purpose of attending the annual meeting of the stockholders, which will take place on the second Tuesday in February. The River and Harbor Bill.

WASHINGTON, D. In a recent conversation with a leading member of Congress the President referred to the surplus in the Tressury, and in making a hasty calculation as to the appropriation bills which would tend to decrease this amount, included the river and harbor bill. The gross amount provided for in the bill is a trific in excess of $19,000,000, and as this is about equal to the President's expectations, he is supposed to be entirely satisfied with the committee's work.

Our Canuck Cousins Nothing if Not Prac tical-Pretty Young Housekeepers. From the New York Press. Canada may be several laps behind most naons in the march of intellectual , progress, but she keeps going perseveringly onward boys are wearing off the virgin gold of their natural quickness and ability, and polishing it until they have almost arrived at the litter which dazzles and captivates the glitter which dazzles and captivates the world that has yet failed to recognize or encourage mere diamonds in the rough. Her girls are really the cream of the continent. Their coyness is more than an equal for the blushing, sensuous bashfulness of the Southern brunette, and their physique has the perfection to which alone the moderate zone and the Northern clime can give birth.

A certain business idea underlies all their actions and crops out in national as well as in individual concerns. Even the courting of the young folks, which is in most countries a sort of delirious, if not insane, round of continuous ecstacy and an exaggerated idea of the beauty and worth of the individual, takes a mundane form.

Courtship is a business, possibly a pleasant one, but invariably a short one. By this it must not be understood that the young ladies may be had for the asking, or that they are the merchandise of their parents. Not at all, it is simply that both the men and the women take the sensible view of the subject. It is not that their Duicines is divine or their Lothario is an Apollo, but purely that they each conclude that marriage would be an excellent thing for both. There is no consumption of several tons of coal or cords of wood over the proceeding. It doesn't last long enough for that.

e several tons of coal or cords of wood over the proceeding. It doesn't last long enough for that.

Generally the probation period is six months, and if a young man has been brought up within fifteen or twenty miles of the lady to whom he is paying his attentions he necessarily knows all about her and her ancestry, and he is expected to make his proposals and announce his intentions within that period. If he is paticularly bashful and the young lady is indulgent she may give him a place on the sofs and accept the contributions of the sap of the maple with which he comes laden to her fresh from the forest for another three months. But unless somewhere in that month he asks her to be his own he must seek other firesides. She doesn't weep at the parting or make any time over it. There are as good fish in the sea as ever were caught, she argues, and in that reason she finds consolation for the misspent time.

Are Canadian girls pretty? Well, rather, and, better still, they are all trained to make good housekeepers. There is not a young lady from the Red River to Labrador that cannot make the most tempting of wheat cakes as well as the rarer delicacies. They are good helpmates and never prove faithless.

In reigion the Canadians are eminently practical as well. Religion doesn't bring any grist to their mills, and they are content to let the ministers work in the vineyard without hampering them with any advice or suggestions.

Polities is also a great field in which the rest. Who will be their candidates? Two things determine this.

First, the man must be able to put up an amount of money that will be equal to the sum of $2$ on every vote in the constituency in which he is to run. This is not necessarily a bribery fund. That is the sum that the parties had agreed on is absolutely necessary to pay for hall hire and bands as well as for votes. Then, again, he must be of the free and easy fellows. He must laugh and be merry and slap everybody on the back when he would rather slap them in the mouth, but he must make a virtue of necessity. What have they nominated him for? They don't expect him to develop into an angel. They look upon Parliament as a body that is entitled to take a hand in the Treasury grab-bag, and they neither wonder nor grow jealous if he comes back home a rich man, provided he performs his part with some cieverness.

They are very simple, these Candians, but they know some few facts that make them interesting. The echoes from the outside world have reached them, and they dress them in the most fantastic and exaggerated forms. There are hopes for their coming into the intellectual and mechanical race with the Americans, but if they do it will be quite safe and possibly prudent to not attempt to capture them by sprinking sait on their tails. They will not object to the sprinking, but the chances are a hundred to one that after that operation has been performed they will march back to their own strange land and utilize and enjoy the sait while the sprinkiers are wondering what it all means.

WAS SAVED.

Choero, Hamilton Co., Ind., September 19, 1887.—The following is a true account of what your S. S. S. has done for our little daughter, Hazel, now 4 years old. When 12 months old a lump appeared on her heel, which slowly grew larger. The family physi-cian thought it was caused by a piece of broken glass or needle, but failed to bring anything to light. The child became feebler all the time, seeming to loss the use of her leg, and finally quit walking entirely. The middle finger and thumb of either hand became enlarged, the flesh becoming hard. The hip joints became involved, so that when 17 months old she could not stand, havins loss the use of leg and arm. Partial curvature of the spine also followed. The nervous system was wreeked, muscles contracted, and there was general wasting of flesh and muscle. At 18 months of age she was placed under the treatment of a prominent physician of Boston, Mass., but at the end of ten months she had declined to such a degree that she was in a dying condition. This was in April, 1866. We took the child away not knowing what to do. In this dreadful dilemma we were overpersuaded by friends to try "one bottle" of SWIFT'S FERCIFIC, which we did, and before it had all been taken we saw a change for the to light. The child became feebler all the it had all been taken we saw a change for the better in her symptoms. We kept it up, and have done so to this day, and will keep it up, if the Lord wills, for many days to come, for it has brought our dying Hazel to life, to vigor, to strength and health again. The ashen hue of her cheeks has changed to a rosy tint. She is able to walk anywhere, her and she is now a blithe, cheerful, happy, romping child. Should you wish to increase your testimentals of proof of the virtue of S. S. S., our names and what we have said is but a portion of what we owe to you, should you

Another terrible blow has been struck at the local option cause, and an additional consignment of faith and hope will have to be ordered for the use of St. Louisans when they drink the mixture which the Water Department sells

Five days ago the water in the hydrant at the office of the Western Anthracite Coal Company quit running. The men in the office worked at the pipe attempting to start the fruity liquid, but without avail, and finally a vigorous kick was lodged at the City Hall. A water inspector went to the office and worked at the pipe, but without success until yesterday, when he attached a force-pump to the hydrant and pumped for whatever was inside. After hard pumping something let go in the pipe and the liquid gushed out. An examination of the pump disclosed the cause of the stoppage. It was an eel measuring exactly one foot in length which had slipped out of the reservoir and has been forced almost through the pipe. A little son of one of the gentlemen in the office heard about the discovery and last even-

Feeling, etc.

To be well and to avoid being ill is strongly desired by every one, and yet comparatively few are so careful of themselves all the year round as to keep in good health. The result is that at more or less frequent intervals, and more particularly in the spring, the machinery of the body becomes out of order, the organs weak and tired, the blood sluggish; and some good medicine is absolutely necessary to restore harmonious and healthy action.

Leading physicians attribute a great deal of prevailing sickness to bad ventilation in tenements, workshops, mills and boarding-houses. The lack of fresh air, and the abundance of poisonous carbonic acid gas, impoverishes and Poisons the Blood.

The result is the run down condition known as "that tired feeling." which renders the system readily susceptible to attacks of disease. This had ventilation and close confinement is, of course, more common in the winter, and hence the prostration, weaks mon in the winter, and neace the programming, mess and impure blood in the apring.

Hood's Sarsaparilla contains those curative properties which are known to medical science as able to remove the poisonous impurities in the blood, and by their tonic effect to fully restore the waste tissues, build up a healthy constitution, in fact to Make the Weak Strong.

Another reason why some good preparation is re-quired in the spring is to remove from the body the effects of improper food eaten during the winter. Summer diet is more healthful than winter diet. Of course we need more heat-producing foods in winter, but we are not always wise in our selec-tion and are often far from right in our manner of cooking them.

Now, if this improperly cooked food has been taken into the stomach for several months, it must naturally have produced bad effect up the system. This is shown as the warm weather comes on. There is a the tongue is coated, the bowels constipated, blotches appear on the face, neck and ether parts of the body and there is a general feeling that something is wrong. Hood's Sarsaparilia is specially adapted to correct this condition, as it creates a good appetite, cures headache, biliousness, indigestion, dyspepsia. Still another reason why we generally need a "spring medicine" is that strength may be given overtaxed and worn-out tissues. During the winter we work harder than in the summer and under greater physical disadvantages. While, in addition to this, evenings are spent in amusements and social gatherings, which necessarily use jup considerable of our physical capital. In Hood's Sarsaparilla will be found just the medicine for repairing such derangements of the system. It at once goes to the seat of the cine for repairing such derangements of the system. It at once goes to the seat of the trouble, builds up the depressed constitution, and at the same time restores the diseased tissues to healthy

"Are not supposed to have been written by Dr. Sonneschein," he rebeated. "Supposed I Deesn't Dr. Wise know? If he, the editor, doesn't, who does?"

"Nor is the manuscript in his hand-writing," he went on. "How about type-writer copy? Couldn't the same thing be said about that?"

copy? Couldn't the same thing be said about that?"

Then as he finished the card he threw it from him, exclaiming: "Bah, such a vindication. If I wanted a vindication I wouldn't accept such a thing as that. What does it say, with all its words? Nothing. I will not say more. The vindication is, I think, a vindication of me."

After the publication of the facts of the controversy in the Post-Dispatch, Dr. Sale telegraphed to Rev. Dr. Hirsch of Chicago, aking him if the statement in the Post-Dispatch that Leo Wise, one of the editors of the paper, had implicated Dr. Sonneschein in the authorship was true. The following reply was received from Dr. Hirsch:

"Leo Wise acknowledged to me that the Sonnescheins were the "Mysterys."

In regard to this Dr. Sale was saked to-day:

"If Leo Wise says he never told Dr. Hirsch what you say he did, what then?"

"That is no longer an affair of mine. It is simply a question of veracity between Dr. Hirsch and Leo Wise. I stated that Dr. Hirsch told me a certain thing, and Dr. Hirsch says I quoted him correctly."

He said that if the few lunatics who threw the Haymarket bombs were all foreigners (except Parsons) it should be remembered that the policemen they killed and the Sheriff who hung them were foreigners also. There was loud applause from the Democratic side when he added: "It "was the great free public land domain and "the immigration it had attracted freely this spring. Pete Mullery Proves That They Will No Judge Cady's pledges are no good. Peter Mullery has conclusively proven this. For several years he has been one of Judge Cady' most regular callers. It is always the same and after being fined Judge Cady consented to remit his fine on Muliery's promise to reform. The good Peter expressed a willingness to take the pledge for a year. NOT LEGAL.

The Bargain Between Husband and Wife in a Divorce Proceeding.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH. Boston, Mass., March 31.-The Supren Court decided yesterday that a bargain made by a husband with his wife to induce her to abandon divorce proceedings was not a legal one. The case was that of Gyles Merrill against Byron Peaslee. Herman Peaslee of Haverhill in 1873 married Abbie D. Rowe and they lived together as man and wife until the marriage of Mr. Peaslee's daughter in 1875. After the ceremony had been performed Mr. Peaslee, who had been drinking too much, in the presence of some of the guests, knocked his wife down and otherwise abused her. Under Massachusetts laws Mrs. Peaslee was entitled to divorce for such treatment, and she left her husband and consuited counsel with a view of obtaining a divorce and alimony. Mr. Peaslee soon began to repent of his conduct and offered to deposit a note for $5,000 for her benefit if she would abandon her suit and return to him. Mrs. Peaslee accepted these terms and sometime afterwards her husband died. A demand was made upon his estate for the note, in addition to the wife's dower, which was refused, and when the case came to trial the Superior Court ruled that the consideration was lilegal and deelded for the defendant. The plaintiff took exceptions which a majority of the full bench overruled, Judge Holmes writing a dissenting opinion. they lived together as man and wife until the

It was to be noticed, too, that Dickens did not applicable to a philosophical examination had the best systems of education prevalent in his time, but rather to the observation of education, more or less properly so called, as it should not be. This remarkable fact would never fall to thrust itself upon the student of Dickens. That in all his writings he never dwelt with emphasis upon the advantages of good systems which fell under his observation, but rather ploked up the abuses which he had found and one by one held them up for condemnation in the appealing manner of which he alone was capable. Lessons such as this were taught in almost every book that Dickens wrote. He had endeavored to show that a child's appreciation of injustice was just as living, according to scale, as that of older people. In the "Pickwick Papera," "Oliver Twist," "Great Expectations," "Bleak House," "Little Dorritt," "The Old Curiosity Shop," "Nicholas Nickleby," "David Copperfield," and in fact all of his novels, the story told was a whole sermon in itself on the evils of education administered under false ideas and by teachers who had more to learn than their pupils. the McChokemchilds, and the Squeerses were nailed to the cross with nails made from burning hate inspired by their contemplation. The essayist explained this remarkable fact by saying that in all these bitter caricatures was reflected the early life of the great novelist. The recollections of how he had himself suffered; of the injustice to which he had been subjected when a child, were the secret of the perpetual warware against the evils of the methods he fought. No doubt this early life was strong in his mind when he wrote: "My school days! The silent gliding on of my existence—the unseen, unfelt progress of my life from childhood up to youth. Let me think as I look back upon that flowing water, now a dry channel overgrown with leaves, whether there are any marks along its course by which I can remember how it ran."

Prof Soldan quoted at length from "Hard Times," emphasizing the absolute lack of sentiment that marked the Gradgrind method and its faithful reflex—the McChokemchild method. THE UNCERTAINTY OF JURY VERDICTS

How It Was Beautifully Illustrated Trial of Martin H. Boyle.

Nothing was done in the Criminal Court to lay in the case of Martin H. Boyle, whose trial for the killing of Dominick Ginnochio, the sawas concluded yesterday. The jury him guilty of manslaughter in the fourth de-gree and assessed his punish-ment at three months in jail and a fine of $100. After returning the verdict they recommended that the court extend mercy to the defendant. The court requested them to piace in writing what mercy they wished to be shown him, and while they were out deliberating Judge Normile grew tired of waiting and adjourned until this morning. Afterward the jury came out with their recommendation, that the fine and imprisonment be stayed and the defendant acquitted. This most extraordinary action on their part surprised everybody. Nothing could possibly better illustrate the uncertainty of a jury. The case was prosecuted by one of the ablest criminal lawyers at the bar, and a very strong case made out against Boyle. It was thought he would certainly get a long term of years in the penitentiary, and it was a general belief that if he had been indicted for murder in the first degree, he would probably be convicted of that. Judge Normile intends victed of that. Judge Normile intends paying no attention to the recommendation of the jury for mercy, as they had finished their labors in the case before they made it. Boyle will be sentenced according to the verdict, and both he and Gov. Johnson, his attorney, are perfectly willing to let matters there.

special Correspondence of the POST-DISPATCH. figures shown in the annual report of the tockholders of the Missouri Pacific Railway Company have been well received in Little Rock, and the showing made for Arkansas lines and lands is so favorable that it has created much excitement and enthusiasm and the always been supposed that the land grant of the M., K. & T. Railway, located as it was in the beautiful Neosho River Valley, and emhad been a perfect bonanza to the company both in the price received for the lands and in the business derived shipping the products since the lands were sold and brought under cultivation. However, such does not appear to have been the case. As far as it has been able to btain the figures relating to the M., K. & T. Railway grant, it originally consisted of 1,041,-108 acres, and it has all been sold except 2,221 grounds reserved for railway use. The total revenue received to date from the sale of 1,085,887 acres of this beautiful Kansas prairie land is $2,307,819, an average of $2.10 per acre. It cost the railroad to advertise and sell these lands $1,188,130, or $1.13 per acre, leaving the road only 97 cents net per acre as profit. Now compare this showing with the result as acres, consisting principally of town lots and Now compare this showing with the result as shown from the report made on the land grant of the Little Rock & Fort Smith Railway. This grant was wholly in Arkansas and originally consisted of 1,057,762 acres, and broken part of the State. Up to date there has been sold 476,227 acres of these lands, and there remains yet to be sold 581,535 acres. ARKANSAS LAND VALUES.

The lands sold brought $1,796,188, an aver age of $3.79 per acre, against $2.10 obtained for the Kansas lands. The cost of advertising and selling the Arkansas lands was higher than in Kansas, but that was occasioned by the expense necessary in showing the lands, by reason of their location and the way in which Arkansas was belittled by Eastern and Northern papers. The total cost of selling the lands of the Little Rock & For: Smith grant up to date has been $988,736 or $2.07 per acre, leaving a net of $1.72 per acre, against 97 cents obtained for has been $988, 130 or $2.0 per acre, leaving a new of $1.72 per acre, against $7 cents obtained for the Kansas lands. Of this grant there remains unsold very much of the best land, including great hardwood and yellow pine timber belts, which will be brought several hundred miles nearer to the Kansas and Colorado lumber markets by the completion of the extension of the Fort Smith Railroad through the Indian Territory.

markets by the completion of the extension of the Fort Smith Railroad through the Indian Territory.

The showing made by the report for the land grant in Arkansas of the St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern Railroad is even better, and shows what prices the wonderful Arkansas at imber lands can be readily sold for. The Iron Mountain road in Arkansas had a land grant of 1,32,104 acres. All of it was land grant of 1,32,104 acres. All of it was land grant of 1,32,104 acres. Boston, Mass., March 31.—The Boston Journal of Commerce to-day prints a letter from Rock & Fort Smith and St. Louis, from Mountain & Southern Railway son the same time, or $965,099 more money from 2,056 miles of railroad than was earned by the M. K. & T., from 3,111 miles of road. This increase has been steadily going on for the past five years, and the next few years will make the comparison even more unfavorable for Kansas. It is proper here to explain why this will be the case, and why the land sold in Arkansas averaged so much better than in Kansas. All of the Arkansas lands have a double value, the timber and the soil, and much of the land is also very valuable for minerals, so that the price brought was based on this double and triple value. The Saile of the remaining portions of the Little Rock & Fort Smith and St. Louis, from 187 the gross sum of $7,386,723, and the St. Louis, from 301 the Southern Railway earned in 1887 the gross sum of $7,386,723, and the St. Louis, from 301 the Southern Railway earned in 1887 the gross sum of $7,386,723, and the St. Louis, from 301 the Southern Railway earned in 1887 the gross sum of $7,386,723, and the St. Louis, from 301 the Southern Railway earned in 1887 the gross sum of $7,386,723, and the St. Louis, form 301 the southern Railway earned in 1887 the gross sum of $7,386,723, and the St. Louis, form 301 the southern Railway earned in 1887 the gross sum of $7,386,723, and the St. Louis, form 301 the southern Railway earned in 1887 t for minerals, so that the price brought was based on this double and triple value. The saie of the remaining portions of the Little Rock & Fort Smith and St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern land grants, amounting to $1.428,497 acres, will be accomplished without the great expense incurred in selling heretofore, for the patient and persistent advertising of Arkansas and her resources by Col. Thos. Essex, Land Commissioner of the Iron Mountain Land Department, and Col. Thos. M. Gibson, Land Commissioner of the Little Rock & Fort Smith Land Department has had its results, and people are flocking into the State from every direction. It would seem that nature has taken a hand in bringing Arkansas to the front, or while the bilizzards and terrible snowstorms, with their accompanying fuel famine, were causing such untoid suffering in Kanbas, Dakota and Nebraska, the thermomter was fluctuating between is and 50 deg. above zero in Arkansas, and such a thing as a full famine was impossible. To illustrate, here is an expression of a Kansas man who came to Little Rock while his country was uninnabitable.

was impossible. To illustrate, here is an expression of a kansas man who came to Little Rock while his country was uninhabitable. He said:

"Arkansas is the only country on the face of the globe where a man can start with almost nothing. He can buy a suit of clothes suitable for the climate at any season of the year, get married, and drunk, all on $5, and, if he is half-way industrious, run no risk of wanting for anything."

The mention of Coi. Logan H. Roots' name in connection with the nomination for Vice-President on the Republican ticket is received with great enthusiasm by the Republicans of Arkansas. Some of the strongest Democrats here state that he would be the hardest man to defeat that the Republicans could put on their ticket, and with his indomitable energy and magnetic manner would give the Democratio party a hard fight for Arkansas, West Virginia, Kentucky, and any other State where there was a possible chance for the Republicans to win. Coi. Roots is a man of great wealth, and does not recognize any such word as fall when he goes into anything. His work in the immigration movement in Arkansas within the past year illustrates that. He has an elegant home here, and is the pillar on which many of the business, social and religious features of Little Rock rest. He has traveled a great deal, visiting Europe for many monts last year. He is at present absent in New York, and it looks very significant that his name should come so prominently to the front just at this juncture.

Immediately after graduating he joined the Federal army, serving therein to the close of the war, and making a creditable military record. As an officer of the Eighty-first Illinois Infantry he was in the campaign and slege of Vicksburg, and on the Red River expedition, after which he was promoted, and was with Gen. bought a cotton plantation before the acceptance of his resignation as an officer of the army. Though never an office seeker he has both held and declined many important official positions. He was the youngest member of the Fortieth Congress of the United States, was re-elected and served also through the Forty-first Congress, which closed March 5, 1871. He introduced the first congressional bill that named the great Southern Transcontinental route, the Texas & Pacific, and with skillful ability he introduced, promoted, and materially aided in securing the passage of many measures of special practical importance in the development of prosperity in the South. Col. Roots is considered the wealthlest man in Arkansas. He is President of the First National Bank of Little Rock and of the Arkansas State Immigration Bureau.

John Strait, a stranger from Arkansas City, Kan., was found lying on Missouri avenue near Fourth street last night in a stupor, and robbed. He went into a saloon, he does not know on what street, and asked for a drink of whisky. As soon as he took it he felt his senses deserting him, and suspecting at once that he had been drugged for the purpose of robbery he started to leave the place. He reached the sidewalk and had gone only a short distance, so he says, when two men grabbed him and went through his pockets. He was too week to offer any resistance and they robbed him of all the money he had, about $24, which he had been paid for working on a new levee at Little Rook. When they left him he sank down to the sidewalk and was there found by the police officer. When his story was heard the police went to work on the case and in a short time had Jack Clancy and J. W. Barker behind the bars charged with being the robbers. Criminating evidence, it is believed, has been secured against them, but it is doubtful if a case can be made on them, as Strait says he could not recognize the robbers.

THE DEATH RATE IN THE G. A. R. acts Which Show City Troops to be Hard ier Than the Country Lads.

"I noticed a few days ago an article in the POST-DISPATCH concerning the mortality mong the German members of the G. A. R., ald Capt. William T. Haskell of Kit Carson Post of Washington, D. I have not hitherto paid any attention to this question, but since any attention to this question, but since the matter has been called to my notice recollect that the deaths among the German veterans of my acquaintance have been very frequent during the last few years. Another point in regard to Grand Army mortality which I have studied with some care is the fact that the death rate of those who originally came from the country far exceeds that of the city men. It is generally supposed that a country life is conducive to health, but as far as the records of the War Department prove anything, the contrary is the case. When in the Army of the Potomac I served in a regiment recruited in the city of New York. Stoddard's Vermont Brigade was in our division, and it was a remarkable fact that those Stoddard's Vermont Brigade was in our division, and it was a remarkable fact that those stalwart mountainers, men of large size and great muscular development, were far more subject to disease than our city boys, and died like sheep in the Chickahominy swamps, while the death rate among the city regiments was very low comparatively. Since the close of the war and especially during the last ten years, the survivors of the Since the close of the war and especially during the last ten years, the survivors of the country regiments, at least in the East, for I know nothing of the West, show a much higher mortality than the metropolitan troops, and sickness is much more frequent. I have heard from French and German officers that the same state of affairs provails in the armies of those countries, and from all these facts I am inclined to believe that the general impression that city life is unhealthy is entirely false."

New York, March 31, 11 a. m.—The stock market after the holiday opened very weak on the execution of the selling orders accumulated, first prices being from '8 to '8 per cent below the closing figures of Thursday generally, while Jersey Central was off 2½ per cent. The market was very active though the bulk of the business done was confined to a few stocks, among which St. Paul, Northwestern, Union Pacific, Western Union and Reading were most conspicuous with a fair trading in four or five other stocks, while the rest of the list were dull and featureless. Further losses were sustained in the early dealings and Union Pacific lost, 2½; Missouri Pacific, 2½; Burlington & Quincy, 2½; St. Paul, 1½; Louisville & Nashville and Manitoba, 1¼, and others fractional amounts. The decline came to a halt toward the end of the hour, but there was no recovery, and at 10 o'clock the market was still moderately active and heavy toweak at the lowest prices. NEW YORK, March & L.—Special telegrams to Bradstreet's present some striking contrasts as to the condition of the general trade. It is quiet and generally disappointing at Boston, Philadelphia, New Orleans and Pittsburg. In Louisiana the weather has delayed planting, and the rivers threaten an overflow. At Louisville trade is less active and of diminished volume, owing largely to unfavorable weather. A like report comes from St. Joseph, where trade has been influenced mainly by the railway strikes. The wagon roads between the Mississippi and the Missouri Rivers are difficult to travel, and as far north as St. Paul the season is two weeks behind and the bad weather has had an effect. The weather and the railway strikes throughout the territory tributary to Chicago have caked trade in some lines at that city, ough in others there have been gains. San rancisco and Denver, on the other hand, report quite an active trade, while St. Louis, kansas City and Omaha regard the business situation as encouraging or highly satisfactory. Cincinnati reports trade as fair, with a stronger tone in some lines. There is no special activity in mercantile collections. Money at New York has remained easy on call, but there has been a little more firmness as regards discounts. Elsewhere, throughout the country, loan rates have for changed materially, except at Cincinnati, where they are nigher, and at St. Joseph, where the market has been quite string in from purely local causes. Our special treasury report shows that receipts increased this week $5,756,972 and the available balance (surplus) $1,301,298. The total number of failures in the United States since January 1 is 5,053, against $1,28 in 1887. The liabilities aggregate $24,000,000, against $29,000,000 last year, largely owing to the failure of a Western bank, speculative (cotton) failures and to several cases of commercial "dry not" at New York. The total assets form 52% per cent of the liabilities, against $50 per cent last year. Total exports of wheat (and flour as wheat) from both coasts this week are 1,294,000 bushels, and since July 1,99,000,000 bushels. Wheat, corn and oats are all higher, the first named gaining ic on the week. Reports to this paper from correspondents in 684 winter wheat growing counties in ten States show that about the middle of March, the acreage of grain of that variety was about $40 per cent under the area of 1887. The condition was 1445 per cent under an average and the damage from frost and other causes was about $40 per cent. THE RIVERS. CLEARING-HOUSE STATEMENT. Local Biver Report. LIVELY TIMES IN ARKANSAS. The Convict Camp Atrocities Being Made Campaign Issue.

The disclosures of the horrible cruelties practiced by the wardens and bosses in the convict camp at Coal Hill. convict camp at Coal Hill, Ark., is becoming the big issue in the State campaign in Arkansas which is now in progress. Mr. H. G. Allis, Comptroller of the St. Louis, Arkansas & Texas, who is an Arkansan by birth and residence, has taken up the cudgels in behalf of humanity, and in a letter to the Arkansas Gazetts scored the Board of Penitentiary Commissioners for their neglect of duty in not preventing the convict atrocities which have been taking place for years past, and accuses them of whitewashing themselves and the penitentiary lessees. The Board is composed of Gov. Hughes, Secretary of State Moore and Attorney-General Jones, two of whom, Mesers. Hughes and Moore, are candidates for re-election. The Board has repiled to Mr. Allis attempting to defend themselves under the plea that the law only required them to inspect the penitentiary and said nothing about the convict camps, whereas the statute mentions an inspection of the convicts cutside and inside the walls as the duty of the commissioners. Mr. Allis has received letters from prominent men all over the State endorsing his position and praising his fearless action. Work Done by the White Cross Home for the Reformation of Fallen Women. At the meeting of the Board of Control of the White Cross Home for the Reformation of Failen Women, on last Monday, Mrs. J. S. Vincent, the Secretary, submitted a report of the work accemplished. The Home was established at 1731 North Twelfth street, in a building belonging to the Trustees of the Soldiers' Orphans' Home. The Trustees placed the Home at the service of the ladies free of rent and the Fresh-Air Mission managers contributed furniture. The first inmate was received on February 22—a homeless mother and baby. The building was in need of repairs and sufficient money for the work, was secured without difficulty. Seventeen adults and eight children have since been admitted. Three women have procured employment and are now earning an honest living. Two were induced to return to their friends. One child was placed in a home. There are at present twelve adults and seven children now in the Home. The Board of Control is composed of the following ladies: Mesdames L. N. Haydock, H. H. Culver, M. J. Weldy, M. R. Krinner, L. Harris, T. H. Haggerty, W. W. Culver, J. S. Vineent and C. P. Johnson.

SOME HEAVY INVESTMENTS RECENTLY MADE ON THE BIG SPRING HANDICAP.

Backers Advised Not to Bet on Eastern Talent-Sporting Budget From New York
-Archie McDonald Dead-Sporting News

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH. New York, March 31.—Just now there is a craze to buy stock in the Suburban Handicap. The favorite horses seem to be those that have been sired by Stratford, Eolus, Uncas, Spendthrift and Glenelg. That fast daughter of Stratford, Connemara, has an ardent lot of followers. One investment made at a well-known establishment calls for $20,000 for $200 in the event that the filly wins the Suburban the gallant daughter of Stratford wins the race Connemara was a failure last year, chiefly because of an attack of lung fever in the spring. She was a first-class 2-year-old in 1886. In this respect her record resembles that of Veracity, the winner last week of the great Lincolnshire Handicap in England. Veracity as a 8-year-old last year was almost worthless, as a 2-year-old was nearly first-class, and now rich races. Connemara as a 4-year-old may an event her stock will pay a dividend when the Suburban is decided. That game horse Eurus, son of Eolus, has many admirers, and $50 blocks of his stock are held by many persons. Those ever-present many admirers, and $50 blocks of his stock are held by many persons. Those ever-present gentlemen, the bookmakers, have not much faith in the ability of Eurus to win the Suburban, and so investors—and there are many of them—have been enabled to obtain 50 to I against their choice. The stock of Dunboyne and of Dry Monopole is also in demand, and from all indications will be in demand for several weeks to come.

Said a prominent turfman, after listening to a few remarks upon the chances of some of the animals engaged in the Brooklyn Handicap: "Whatever you do don't back any of the Eastern horses. How can we hold our own against those trained in the South? Here it is within almost six weeks of the race and my string has had no work, and from present appearances will not be able to get any for a week or so mere. The frequent rains of late have been too cold to meit the snow and there has been no warm sun to assist at the work. In places the tracks are clear, but in others there are deep drifts, and it will take some time, even with the most favorable of weather, to get them in anything like proper condition. If you are looking for the winners at Brooklyn in May, don't forget the Brown, Morris, Baidwin, Ashe and other stables that have had a more salubrious climate in Alabama, Louislana and California, and even those in the Southwestern States of Kentucky and Tennessee, which are much shead of us here. They will furnish the dangerous horses at Brooklyn in May, but at Sheepshead Eay in June it may be different, and then Eastern colors may be nearer the front at the finish."

Out at Paterson, N. J., the Enquirer man saw big Jim McCormick, the pitcher of the Pittaburg Club. "How is it," he was asked, "that you have not reported for duty?" The great twirler looked around at his finely-furnished bar-room and then laughed heartily. "Why, bless you, my boy," he said, "this is better graft. I've got a good business here. I am my own boss; can drink a glass of beer when I want to without danger of being fined $25, and I can enjoy life while building up a competency for my old age. I don't have to travel at the risk of life and limb, and have time to devote to my family. No, I will not play ball againt or at any rate not this season. I'm going to stay out for a year, at least, and devote my energies to my business here. It will pay me better in the long run. This is no hluff. I don't want an increase to play with Pittsburg, and I don't believe that even a very material increase of salary would tempt me to play."

van told him after the fight that he was not the Sullivan he had been.

The English admirers of Charley Mitchell intend presenting him with a splendid testimonial of their appreciation of his fistic abilities. It will be a corker, for the British never fall to honor those who uphold the fame of England. When Tom Sayers fought John C. Heenan they raised a large sum of money, to which the Premier of England, Lord Palmerston, centributed and invested it in an annuity which was paid him as long as he lived, its only condition being that he should never battle again in the ring.—[Exchange.

George Godfrey, the colored heavy weight, is safe in challenging Sullivan, but the big fellow has insuperable objections to fighting anyone who is "off color." He would not meet Mervane Thompson, the Cleveland Thunderboit, in the days when he was best fit to fight, because he was a mulatto, and there is little prospect of his agreeing to box God frey. However, Jake Klirain has no such prejudices, and if Godfrey can find backing enough to make it an object for Klirain to go against him he will not find the color line barring him in that direction.

Jack Fogarty, who gave Nonparell Dempsey a fight as was a fight, is now living in Pittsburg, where he has made a host of friends. He has tried hard of late to get on with almost anyone of his inches, but fate seems to be against him. At present he is matched against a likely looking young fellow named Johnny Joyce, and they were to have met on Monday, but Joyce's sister is almost at the point of death, so a postponement was agreed to until Monday a week. Fogarty is now as big as a horse, but his hands have been hurt so often that there is no telling whether they will last in a severe encounter.
